FROM THE PRESIDENT

One nice thing about being President of the C-WNA is being able to comment on numerous things through this column without having to go into great detail on each matter. This being the case, lets look at several thing varied and sundry:

Whoever controls the weather in Colorado on the weekends when shows occur has certainly been smiling on the collectors of the Centennial State. The ANA held their midyear (winter) show in February at the Broadmoor near Colorado Springs. In stark compairison to the last ANA Colorado Springs Show, the weather could best be described as spring-like despite being held in midwinter. I hope that a large percentage of the C-WNA membership was able to attend. There was a wide selection of national and international dealers to patronize. An interesting selection of displays were provided including several focused on Colorado numismatics. And of course there were the usual meetings and educational meetings. For those who combine pottery and numismatics there was even a limited edition, Van Brigle produced ANA mug.

The Ft. Collins Club's Annual Show in April was greeted with summer like weather. What really amazed me at Fort Collins was the number of old familiar faces that appeared. I saw several faces that I hadn't run across in several years. Also was several folks that had seemingly dropped out of collectingarø back in the fold. Maybe the settling of prices is bring the "old reliable dependant collector" into the field again.

The ANA dedicated their new Headquarters Addition on June 10th. Thinking back I can remember Colorado Springs working to get the ANA to establish its permanent headquarters there and the dedication of headquarters in 1967. While I didn't attend the dedication in '67 I remember Tom Mason showing me a set of dedication medals and commenting that the headquarters was something all collectors could be proud of and that having it would allow the the ANA to do big things in the years ahead. Tom was right. In 15 years the ANA has pioneered authentication and grading services, established a fine museum, increased library services to collectors around the country to say nothing of other increased educational services and programs.

The membership of the C-WNA should be proud to have the ANA in our own backyard. I'd like to congratulate them on the completion of their new addition and express wishes that the next 15 years be as productive as the last!

I understand that the new museum at headquarters has a Colorado Gallery that features many items from the collection of our immediate past president, Bill Henderson. This fact alone ought to make the ANA Museum a worthwhile detour when in the Colorado Springs area.

The C-WNA Board has been busy. We attempted a meeting at the ANA Show but were unable to corral a quorum. We did get together at Ft. Collins and acted decisively in several areas at what was called an "Amazingly Short" meeting by one party who we won't mention.

1. The C-WNA has decided to have two shows a year. This will involve having a spring show as well as the annual convention in the fall. We hope that by having a spring show we can increase the public's awareness of C-WNA while helping the smaller clubs that otherwise might not be able to have a show. Hopefully this policy will benifit to the collector, the clubs and the C-WNA.

2. Our tentative schedule for shows are:

Fall 1982 - Colorado Springs

Spring 1983 - Open

Fall 1983 - Greeley

Spring 1984 - Open

If your club would be interested in hosting a C-WNA show or convention, please contact Secretary-Treasurer Hellene Bohler.

3. An idea was kicked around to have an annual C-WNA medal. The idea being that each year we could put out an attractive item commemorating some area, community, event, etc. which would be made available to the membership as well as the general public. There are limitless things that could be done with availability, subject matter, metals available, etc. What are your feelings on such a medal series???? Think this one over and contact Alan Nye, P. O. Box 25205, Colorado Springs, Colo. 80936 or myself. We do actively solicit your comments on this proposal. Hopefully a decision can be made at the fall convention on what the course of action should be.

4. Do you know of a deserving young numismatist who might be interested in attending the ANA Summer Seminar next year? We've had some discussion about sponsoring a scholarship for a junior from the area and if adopted we will be soliciting candidates. This is something to keep in mind as the Seminar can provide a youth with a great learning experience in numismatics.

Have a good Summer!

Rickie Walsh
President

EDITOR'S NOTES

At the Spring Board meeting held in Ft. Collins, it was decided to hold a fall and spring coin show. The annual fall show has been awarded to Colorado Springs with the Numismatic Society and Coin Club acting as joint hosts. The date has been set for September 18 and 19, 1982 at the Springs Motor Inn, Exit 133 off of I-25. The board also decided that the Greeley Coin Club be awarded the opportunity of hosting either the spring or fall C-WNA show in 1983.

This issue of the C-WNA newsletter contains information about the ANA building addition dedication in Colorado Springs and the upcoming ANA convention in Boston. A special thanks to Kerry Wetterstrom for his newsnote on the South Suburban Coin Club and his article on collecting ancients.

*Take care,
Mike*

ANA BUILDING DEDICATION

The new ANA building addition was dedicated on 10 June, 1982: exactly 15 years after the original structure was dedicated in 1967. A very interesting comparison was contained in the dedication pamphlet and is shown below:

FEATURED EXHIBITS

The dedication festivities also included a look at seven extremely well displayed exhibits.

1804 Silver Dollar

One of the most famous and valuable coins in the world, the Linderman specimen of the 1804 Dollar was stolen from the duPont collection 15 years ago and only recently recovered for its owner through the resourcefulness of ANA staff. Always a controversial and mysterious coin, this remarkable piece is even more fascinating in light of its recent past. The Linderman specimen is on display through the generosity of Willis H. duPont. It's value is estimated at $750,000.

George Washington

In celebration of the 250th anniversary of the birth of George Washington, the Museum's Stacks Gallery features a numismatic perspective on the life of our first President and the impact of his character. A surprising and tantalizing abundance of medals, monies and appropriate artifacts awaits the viewer, including rare 18th century pieces and contemporary quarters.

The Stacks Gallery celebrates another great American, the late Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., civil rights leader, social worker, and recipient of the Nobel Prize for peace. Dr. King is immortalized in a splendid numismatic collection recently donated to the Museum by Lawrence K. Chavis of Petersburg, Virginia.

Lunar Sample #22

Every coin is indeed a bit of "mineral wealth", but the extra-terrestrial specimen on exhibit in the numismatic tribute to space exploration outdistances them all. On loan from the Johnson Space Center, NASA, is a genuine moon rock, Lunar Sample #22, displayed with a selection of recent medals featuring achievements in outer space exploration.

KEYNOTE ADDRESS

Col James B. Irwin (USAF-Ret), Astronaut, gave the dedication address. Col Irwin piloted the APOLLO 15 lunar module spending over 19 hours on the moon's surface. While exploring the lunar surface, Col Irwin collected a large selection of moon rocks, one of which is on display in the ANA museum. A total of 295 hours and 11 minutes were spent in space by Col Irwin and fellow astronauts, Colonels Dave Scott and Al Worden, during their APOLLO 15 journey to the moon and back.

COMMEMORATION MEDAL

A new medallic commemorative designed by Robert A. Weinman was issued to complement the 1967 dedication medal. Weinman, who was the 1975 recipient of the ANA's Numismatic Art Award and is well known to collectors for his work with the national Bicentennial commemorative issues, submitted his winning design for the 1982 dedication medal in a closed competition among three of the country's most prominent medallists. On the obverse of his design the expanded headquarters is featured, while the reverse shows a female figure in motion holding the lamp of knowledge, symbolizing the ANA's advancement of the science of numismatics.

The 1967 dedication medal proved to be very popular, with all 500 serially-numbered pure-silver medals and a like amount of unnumbered bronze medals sold on dedication day. In anticipation of an enthusiastic demand for the 1982 expanded headquarters dedication medal, the ANA is accepting mail orders. The issue can be purchased in either a set of 1 1/2 inch diameter silver and bronze, serially-numbered medals in a three-part lucite holder priced at $35 or as a 1 1/2 inch unnumbered bronze medal, boxed, for $7.50. Orders for the two-piece medal set should include $3 for

ANA CONVENTION IN BOSTON

This year's ANA convention will be held in Boston, the "Hub of the Universe" from 16 to 22 August. The convention offers a unique opportunity to visit the landmarks of our American heritage. Tours will include Salem-"The Witch City", Lexington-Concord, Historic Boston to include Paul Revere's house, USS Constitution, Old North Church and the Boston Tea Party Ship. Other tours will include the Plimoth Plantation, JFK Library, and Saint Gauden's Home and Museum.

Convention Medal Set

The Convention Medal Set featuring John Jay, John Adams and Ben Franklin on the obverse is available for $40 (pre-registration) or $45 (post convention). It includes an 1 1/2" bronze, 1 1/2" silver and a 3/4" bronze medal. A 2 1/2" bronze medal in a presentation case is available for $15 or $17.50.

Colorado Gallery

Coins and mementos of the Pikes Peak Gold Rush era, early fiscal documents, historic images, and objects relating to the seeking, assaying refining and minting of the Centennial State's precious metals are featured in this display of the numismatic heritage of the Rocky Mountain Region, home of ANA headquarters. Past CWNA President Bill Henderson donated the majority of this exhibit.

Fall of Nations

This special exhibit area is a "hands on" gallery. By touching enlarged models of important coins from around the world, visitors, especially the visually impaired, will have the opportunity to gain a greater awareness of medallion art and the fascinating lure of coin collecting. As each three-dimensional piece is added to the gallery, one of the photographic panels of the world coins, on display for dedication day, will be replaced.

Introducing Numismatics

This exhibit, which offers an introduction to the scope and appeal of numismatics, presents a series of topical displays ranging from some of the earliest coins of the Greeks and paper money of the Chinese, to Spanish treasures of the New World and colorful monetary evidences of inflation. The exhibit includes a gorgeous set of proof/uncirculated Indian cents.

SOUVENIR CARD

The American Bank Note Company is again issuing a souvenir sheet for this year's ANA. The card depicts a three dollar note on the Tremont Bank which first opened its doors in 1814 as the Manufacturers and Mechanics Bank of Boston.

One of the country's early chartered banks, the Manufacturers and Mechanics Bank of Boston opened its doors in April 1814, eight years before "Boston Town" became a city. The Bank's name was changed in March 1830 to the Tremont Bank and it continued thus until 1864 when it was reorganized as the Tremont National Bank of Boston. With charter no. 625. Several series of notes were issued, the note above being dated April 12, 1836. It was from a four-subject plate of $1, $2, $5 and $10 produced by Danforth, Wright & Company, one of the predecessor engraving firms of the American Bank Note Company that produced this replica from an original plate. Only the face plate has survived. The rest plate has either been lost or destroyed. The scene of the note may be of Tremont Street, one of the principal streets in the downtown area of Boston.

SOUTH SUBURBAN COIN CLUB PARTICIPATES IN NATIONAL COIN WEEK

by Kerry K. Westerstrom

The South Suburban Coin Club participated in the recent National Coin Week, April 18-24. SSCC compiled two different exhibits and displayed one at the First National Bank of Southglenn and the other at Columbia Savings and Loan, both in Littleton. The exhibits covered the entire spectrum of numismatics from ancients to the modern world. A brochure listing each coin and identifying it (or other numismatic items) was prepared for both exhibits and distributed at the banks. SSCC member Donald Koontz coordinated the exhibitions and designed them as well.

The South Suburban Coin Club, originally the Martin-Marietta Employees Coin Club, meets in the John V. Christensen Library on the lower floor of the Southglenn Plaza on the second Tuesday of each month.

The Fort Collins Coin Club meets the first Friday night of each month at 8:00 P.M. at the Sirloin Stockade, 1700 South College Avenue, Fort Collins Colorado.

At the first meeting in September the Club will host a dinner for its members. The Club will pick up $3.00 or a $4.00 dinner to be served and the members will pay $1.00. This is in appreciation of the co-operation that the members have given their club, such as their help with the Spring Show, attending meetings and in general their loyal support to the Club.

The Annual Spring Show of the Fort Collins will be held the last week-end in April at the Holiday Inn. This Show has its dates set for the next 5 years, so that everyone can plan on being in Fort Collins the last Saturday and Sunday in April for the next 5 years.

*****

The Greeley Club has expressed the desire to host the CWNA Annual Fall Show in September of 1983.

Airfare Discount

American Airlines, the official carrier for the American Numismatic Association, is providing a service for all ANA members planning to attend the 91st Annual ANA Convention in Boston. Call an American Airlines special Meeting Service desk and you will be given special air fares. This will be a 20% discount off the unrestricted 'Y' class seat. American will carefully review the various air fares it offers and assure the ANA convention traveller of the lowest American Airline air fare.

Flight reservations will be confirmed and full information provided on all money-saving fares. Auto rentals are available. All that is required is to call toll free (800) 433-1790. The meeting service desk is open 8:30-5:00 Monday through Friday.

ANA Summer Seminars

The 1982 ANA summer seminar for numismatists will be larger and better than ever, according to enrollment information released by the ANA.

In order to permit the maximum number of interested men and women to participate in seminars in different regions of the nation, the 1982 schedule has been increased from two colleges to three as the University of Wisconsin joins Pennsylvania State University and Colorado College as seminar sites. It is planned to enroll 100 students at both Penn State and Wisconsin. 250 will attend Colorado College on whose campus the ANA headquarters is located. The tuition fee for Penn State and Wisconsin will be $250 for ANA members and $275 for non-members. Tuition will include room and board for one week plus one field trip. Tuition should be paid in advance. Seminar dates will be: Penn State, State College, PA June 20-26, 1982
University of Wisconsin, Stevens Point, WI July 11-17
Colorado College, Colorado Springs, CO August 1-7.

Each seminar will be one week in length and will open with registration day on Sunday, opening reception that evening, classes Monday-Friday during the day, with some night sessions, depending on the instructor. Saturday will be closing day with lunch the final meal.

All classes will be filled on a first come, first served basis. Field trips planned for this year are:

Penn State-American Philatelic Society Headquarters, State College, PA.
University of Wisconsin - Krause Publications, Iola, WI, celebrating their 30th Anniversary.
Colorado College - Denver Mint tour.

Applications for enrollment will be part of the brochure and should be requested from Judy Stebenne, ANA, Summer Seminar Program, P.O. Box 2366, Colorado Springs, CO 80901.

COLLECTING ANCIENT COINS

(by and for a neophyte)

Kerry K. Wetterstrom

Recently, I decided to dabble in the field of ancient Greek and Roman numismatics. My dabbling has quickly developed into a passion, and I thought I would share a few of my experiences in this new endeavor.

Ancient Greek and Roman coins offer one of the most challenging and rewarding areas in numismatics. Holding an early U.S. large cent has always been thrilling when one realizes the story behind it. The places and pockets it has been in, the transactions consummated by it, and the beauty of the coin itself. And this is for a coin almost two hundred years old. Imagine the adventures a dupondius of Augustus has to tell, a coin almost two thousand years old. The history that Roman and Greek coins portray is all the more important in their case, for much of what we know of this history was deduced from these artifacts created by artisans long since gone. Enough said about the effervescent glow of ancient coins, how does one begin to collect them?

Quite easily! Ancient coins offer hundreds of collecting avenues from coins of Alexander the Great to Roman Imperial Coins. Prices for these coins (especially Roman coins) are usually quite affordable. A coin exists for every budget and the condition of the coin can be most pleasing. Bruce McNall, owner of Numismatic Fine Arts, Inc., estimates that there are between 4 to 5,000 active ancient collectors in the U.S. alone. Ancient coins is one area that investors will never speculate in so it is entirely a numismatist's field.

David Sear's Roman Coins and Their Values, published by Seaby's, is an excellent introductory guide as is his Greek Coins and Their Values (in two volumes). Both are readily available and, although they cost more than a Redhook, they are of the same importance to the beginner. Seaby's and a host of others publish many more excellent texts for Greek and Roman coins. Most of these books are available from major ancient coin dealers.

Next, paramount in importance, is the selection of one or more dealers from whom these coins are to be purchased. This field, more than any other perhaps, requires an honest and knowledgeable dealer. Trends for Roman Imperial Coins are not published in a weekly coin newspaper so dealing with a person who is familiar with current values is a must. The dealer that does not specialize in ancient coins quite often over and under prices his coins (unfortunately, usually the former). Exceptions to this rule are known as there are a few U.S. coin dealers who collect ancients and, therefore, are knowledgeable in the field.

Counterfeits pose another problem. Again, if you lack the knowledge necessary then by all means deal with an expert. Counterfeits of ancient Greek and Roman coins have been in existence as long as the genuine article, therefore, beware! Some are difficult to detect even for the experienced collector. I know of several excellent and reputable dealers in the Colorado-Wyoming area, and many more across the nation.

I would recommend that you begin by specializing in one particular area and branch out from that twig. The "Twelve Caesars" or the "Five Good Emperors" of Rome are popular and excellent starting points. Reverse types and portraits are fascinating as every ancient coin is unique. Even coins with the same design will differ due to planchet problems, strike characteristics, and the individual engraver's whim.

To conclude, I would recommend ancient Greek and Roman coins to anyone tired of plugging holes in his penny board and looking for something new and challenging. Ancient coins offer an endless array of collecting and aesthetic appeal.

  - b) nine linear feet
10. Lighting outlines for exhibits will not be provided since permanent lighting in the area is sufficient.
11. All displays should be designed as free standing (horizontal and/or vertical) since back support (wall) will not be available.
12. There will be two classes of exhibits:
  - a) Competitive
  - b) Non-Competitive (commercial, special interest, etc.)
13. Competitive categories will be limited to:
  - a) Senior
  - b) Junior
(17 years of age or under)

There will be no other categories. Trophies will be awarded on the basis of total points accumulated in accordance with paragraph 17.
14. All exhibits must be in place by 10 a.m., September 18, 1982 unless exempted by the Exhibit Chairman.
15. The exhibitor will retain all keys to his exhibit, but after installation no exhibit shall be entered without permission of the Exhibit Chairman or his alternate.

16. Exhibits should not be removed from the exhibit area prior to 4:00 p.m., September 19, 1982, but must be removed prior to 6:00 p.m. that day.
17. Exhibits will be judged under the following point system:

|                           | Maximum Points |
|---------------------------|-----------------------|
| 1) Numismatic Information | 40                    |
| 2) Presentation           | 30                    |
| 3) Completeness           | 15                    |
| 4) Condition              | 10                    |
| 5) Rarity                 | 5              |
| Total Maximum             | 100                   |

18. No exhibit which has been a first place winner in a previous Colorado Springs Coin show may be entered, but the same material may be used to develop a completely new presentation. Simple re-arrangement of the former exhibit does not constitute a new presentation.
19. It is assumed that the majority of exhibitors have access to display cases. The Exhibit Committee can provide a few cases on a first come, first served basis. Any exhibitor needing a case or cases must make arrangements with the Exhibit Chairman prior to September 12, 1982.

Walter Jay Hoffman, better known as Jay, died January 5, 1982, after a short illness. He was born January 26, 1913 in Bloomfield, Iowa to George Walter and Myrtle Flemming Hoffman, who had come to Wyoming in 1912 to homestead 20 miles north of Cheyenne on the old Yellowstone Highway.

Jay grew up with an older brother J. Verne Hoffman and an older sister, Mae Hoffman Caulson. They attended country schools until the older ones were ready for high school and then they moved into Cheyenne but would still spend the weekends and summers on the farm. Jay graduated from Cheyenne High School in 1931 with a teacher's certificate. He taught in the country schools for two or three years and in the summer went to the University of Wyoming summer school. It was here he met Elizabeth Hepner, Prof. Frank E. Hepner's daughter. They were married on July 27, 1935 in Denver, Colorado. In 1937, they both graduated from the University of Wyoming.

Jay had been working for Safeway and still worked there until 1941 when he decided to hire out on the Union Pacific Railroad as a brakeman and later was promoted to conductor. On June 3, 1975, he received his "last orders" from the railroad to enjoy retirement at 419 South 11th in Laramie.

Jay was a life member of the Masonic Lodge in Laramie, Union Pacific Old Timers Club, and C.W.N.A. He also belonged to the A.N.A., the local coin clubs of Laramie, Cheyenne, Fort Collins and the Moose Lodge.

He is survived by his wife Elizabeth, son Larry of Albuquerque, New Mexico, daughter SuAnne Bode (Douglas) of Dubuque, Iowa and eight grandchildren.
